CHAIRPERSON'S STATEMENT

The year will be remembered for the many wonderful sporting achievements and successes of our athletes, not only in Ireland but also on the international front. The 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games in June saw over 1,825 athletes from across the island of Ireland descend upon Limerick to compete in 14 different sports. The athletes were accompanied by 650 coaches and official delegates, as well as an estimated 9,000 family members and loyal supporters, the highest number of supporters to date attending any All Ireland Games. From the emergence of the Law Enforcement Torch Run out of the newly opened Limerick Tunnel, to the hosting of the Opening Ceremony to an enormous audience in the historic Thomond Park to the conclusion of all competitions, it really was an unforgettable few days. The legacy of these Games began to unfold by November, as over 300 Games Volunteers expressed interest in getting involved in the programme in Munster.

2010 also marked the 25th Anniversary of the wonderful partnership between eircom and Special Olympics Ireland, a milestone that both organisations are very proud of and which was celebrated throughout the year and, in particular, at the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games.

In September, Team Ireland, sponsored by eircom, travelled to the 2010 Special Olympics European Summer Games in Warsaw, Poland. Accompanied by a team of 16 volunteers, many records were broken on the sports field and Team Ireland did us proud and created a huge impression on everyone who met them. Their success was recognised by President Mary McAleese, who hosted a memorable reception at Áras au Uachtaráin in October to honour their achievements.

There was a steady growth in the number of athletes, as we welcomed 834 new athletes into the Special Olympics Programme, raising the total number of registered athletes by end of December to 10,634. 18 new Special Olympics clubs were also established. The organisation continues to grow, confirming the need for a continued focus on providing opportunities for athletes within their own local communities.

Economically, 2010 proved as difficult as 2009 for everyone and no more so than for Special Olympics Ireland. April 23rd was the date for the 2010 All Ireland Collection Day where 2,500 volunteers lined the streets and roads of Ireland to collect money for us. Once again we received fantastic support from our volunteers, our sponsors, corporate partners and members of the public. The funds raised ensured the delivery of our life-changing work in supporting athletes in clubs in their localities, providing them with competition opportunities and developing life-enhancing programmes such as the Athlete Leadership Programme and the new Health Promotion initiative.

Participation in Special Olympics changes the lives of athletes and their families. It is thanks to the terrific support of our visionary Board of Directors and Council of Patrons, our dedicated volunteers, loyal sponsors, committed partners and enthusiastic staff members, led by CEO Matt English, that we are able to continue to make a difference for people with an intellectual disability in their local communities.

Special Olympics Ireland is an organisation which continues to raise the bar so as to develop quality in the services we provide for our athletes. We look forward to 2011, the final year of our current strategy, to achieving what we set out to do and to working with everyone to map out the subsequent four-year strategy.

Thank you most sincerely for the part that you have played and continue to play in helping us to realise our promise of changing lives.

2010 PROGRAMME REPORTS

SPORT

Without doubt, the focus and highlight of the competition year for some 1,825 athletes, their coaches and clubs in 2010 was the Special Olympics Ireland Games, held in Limerick in June. However, for other athletes and coaches within the programme, 2010 was an ideal year to work towards achieving a key strategic aim of delivering high quality programmes. 2010 saw a continued drive towards improving coaching standards.

A number of sports-specific Development Days took place providing additional opportunities for athletes and coaches. The focus for coaches was on up-skilling and learning about the more technical aspects of the sport. The athletes received additional training tips, dedicated coaching and an opportunity to try out new events.

On other Coach Education initiatives, 565 coaches availed of coach training in one of the following three courses: i) Introduction to Coaching Practices, ii) Golf Leader Course and iii) the Introductory Coaching in Bocce. All of these courses are certified by Coaching Ireland. In addition, the final section of the revised Motor Activities Training Programme manual, the Kicking and Striking section, was completed and made available to regional programmes.

Demand for competition opportunities is growing and we are continuously working on improving the level of provision and the standard to which the competitions are delivered. The minimum standards for the running of competition events have been in place for a few years but 2010 saw the introduction of assessment of these minimum standards at a number of regional events. The plan is to further expand the assessment of the standards over the next few years.

In a determined effort to provide additional competition opportunities to our athletes, and to ensure standards are also in place, a Guide to Organising Inter-club Events was developed, circulated to all clubs and made available on the website. Each region promoted the concept of Inter-club Events at every opportunity and by the year-end, clubs in all regions gave very positive feedback on the success of the initiative and the potential to build on this success for the future.

As part of Special Olympics European Football week, the Annual Football National Cup was held at Dublin City University in May. In the 11-a-side Men's football, the closely-fought competition saw the men's cup retained by title holders, Donegal. In the Women's 5-a-side football, North West Special Olympics Club emerged victorious.

On the international competition front, a team of 35 Irish athletes travelled to Poland to compete in the 2010 Special Olympics European Games in Warsaw. The very successful participation of our athletes in five sports - athletics, badminton, bowling, women's football and table tennis - was outstanding, with many achieving significant personal bests in their performances. The Minister for Tourism, Culture and Sport, Mary Hanafin, officially welcomed the team home at Dublin Airport and President Mary McAleese hosted a reception in Áras an Uachtaráin in September to honour and recognise the athletes' success and to thank the 16 coaches and official delegates for their dedication and commitment in preparing and travelling with the team.

In addition to the 2010 European Games, six alpine skiing athletes from the Eastern Region, accompanied by three coaches, travelled to Austria on the 26th January to compete in a European Ski Event. An Irish team also took part in the Triple Crown golf event in September in Drumoig Golf Club, St. Andrew's, Scotland. Team Ireland finished a very impressive second place. A team from the Eastern region also participated in the Athletics and Aquatics competitions at the at the Isle of Man National Games in July.

The selection of athletes to represent Ireland at the 2011 Special Olympics World Summer Games in Athens, Greece, took place in the Regency Hotel in September. 126 athletes were selected in 12 sports. Squad training began in December.

Other international news to emerge during 2010 was the decision of Special Olympics International to recognise Floorball as an official sport within the Special Olympics Programme. For several years now, the Munster Programme has offered Poly Hockey as a team sport in their region.

Members of the Special Olympics Ireland Floorball Team who took part in the European Floorball Cup in Austria, September 2010.

Therefore, when the opportunity arose to participate in the first official European Cup in Floorball in Austria in September 2010, a team from the Munster region was invited to represent Ireland at the event. The team had tremendous success, taking the bronze medal in their division.

Finally, recognition of the successful achievements of our athletes is always a joy and for our footballers who participate in UEFA approved competition, recognition by the Football Association of Ireland (FAI), as part of the Football for All Programme, is a huge honour.

The FAI International Caps presentation took place in Dublin City Hall in December. The 10 athletes who participated at the Special Olympics European Football Cup in Lisbon, Portugal in May 2009 were awarded with their caps by former Irish international players, Packie Bonner and Ray Houghton.

The total number of male and female athletes with international caps in Special Olympics Ireland has now reached 81. This is a fantastic tribute to the athletes and their coaches for their dedication to their sports training and competition.

2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games, Limerick

Limerick played host to the most successful Ireland Games held to date. From 9th – 13th June, a total of 1,825 athletes competed in 14 sports competitions across 8 sports venues in Limerick and Clare. University of Limerick (UL) was a central hub of activity hosting 5 sports competitions, the Special Olympics Town and Healthy Athlete Programme as well as accommodating 2,000 athletes and coaches.

Over 2,500 local volunteers enthusiastically and professionally ran the Games under the direction of the local Games Organising Committee.

The Games in Limerick saw some new initiatives introduced:

- Kayaking competition held at residential Games for first time.
- Clinics held on the Turbo javelin, a new event in the athletics programme.
- Co-location of Special Olympics Town and Healthy Athlete with 5 sports on UL campus and 2,000 athletes and coaches resident on site created a hub of activity.
- Introduction of the Health Promotion project at Games.
- The opportunity for families to accompany their athlete through the Healthy Athlete Programme was welcomed by athletes, families and coaches alike.

Highlights included:

- The hosting of the Opening Ceremony in the historic and legendary Thomond Park to a packed audience.
- The emergence of the Special Olympics Law Enforcement Torch Run from the newly opened Limerick tunnel, making history as the first people to travel through the tunnel.
- Support from over 9,000 family members who made their way to Limerick, the highest number recorded for an All Ireland Games.

Games Legacy Programme

A formal structured approach was taken to planning and maximising the potential legacy from the 2010 Games. From 2009, when it was decided to host the Games in Limerick, the legacy that could result from the hosting of an All Ireland Games was viewed as a major opportunity for Special Olympics Munster. A Legacy Steering group, involving volunteers and staff from regional and central level, worked for over 12 months on developing an effective plan that would help capture this legacy for the benefit of the mid-west area and the region as a whole.

In the months following the Games we saw this plan become a reality in many ways. Following the post Games “Thank You” event, over 300 volunteers expressed an interest in remaining involved with the programme. Many of these volunteers have subsequently taken on roles in areas such as events, sports, fundraising and working with local clubs in the Munster region. New sports have been offered by clubs in the mid-west Munster area and we will see new athletes coming on stream in 2011. Local sponsors and donors, who were involved with the Games, have come on board in support of the local and regional programme and there can be no doubt that the profile of Special Olympics in the Limerick and Munster mid-west received a massive boost.

Club Development

18 new clubs

834 new athlete registrations

The success of the 2008 and 2009 Support and Engagement project, during which each club was visited to establish areas for support or need within the club, has meant that club visits have become an integral and continuing element of the Club Development Programme at regional level.

In 2010, a set of minimum safe operating standards were established and circulated to clubs to encourage and enhance club structures and processes at local level. The focus area during club visits in 2010 onwards has been to highlight the minimum standards of operation for clubs and to discuss any outstanding issues clubs may have.

2010 saw a continued growth in the number of clubs with 18 new clubs established and 834 new athletes registered with the programme.

Despite the excellent growth level for the year, there was an overall reduction in both club and athlete numbers participating in the programme. Ongoing refining and updating of athlete data saw duplicate entries and athletes who were no longer actively involved in sports removed. An element of the reduced numbers is also accounted for by a removal of clubs that are no longer operating.

However, 2010 will be particularly noted for the unfortunate, and regrettable, withdrawal from the programme of some Intellectual Disabilities Service Providers and Special Schools. The economic climate has resulted in some of these groups withdrawing from participation in sport as they redirect limited finances into critical service provision areas.

In each region there was a determined effort to attempt to offer alternative opportunities to athletes that were impacted by the withdrawal of a group. All athletes were contacted and offered places with other local clubs. Addressing the challenges presented by the difficulties for some groups will continue to be a key concern for next few years.

During the year, a decision was made to use the term 'club' to refer to all groups registered with the organisation, i.e. community-based clubs, Intellectual Disability Service Providers and Special Schools. The term 'Affiliated Groups', whilst trying to incorporate all groups within one term, was unclear and lacked meaning and clarity to external groups and in communications with the public. From 2010, all groups will be referred to as 'Clubs', with internal distinction remaining between community clubs and Intellectual Disability Service Providers and Special Schools.

Athlete Leadership Programme (ALPs)

ALPs Ireland Chairperson, Joseph Feehily, speaking at the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Annual General Meeting.

The strategic development plan for the Athlete Leadership programme (ALPs) was reviewed and finalised in 2010, with a key aim of growing and strengthening the programme. Key challenges identified included a need to enhance the overall awareness and understanding of ALPs across the organisation, a shortage of mentors to support potential ALPs athletes and the need to develop a number of resources to assist delivery of the programme.

The ALPs Ireland committee continued to provide strong and valuable input to the programme, particularly working on providing opportunities for athletes who were not competing in the 2010 Games. The committee also provided input to the development of the new ALPs page on the website.

The ALPs Programme continues to struggle to find sufficient volunteers to take on the role of mentors. Much thanks and appreciation is expressed across all regions for the dedicated commitment and the many hours given to the programme from all existing mentors in each region, without whom our ALPs programme would not function and athletes would miss out on development initiatives and opportunities.

ALPS Programme Highlights from around the Regions:

Eastern region

- Support provided by ALPs athletes throughout the year, particularly representing athletes at launches and media events in advance of the 2010 Games, Special Olympics Ireland AGM and the Regional Football Finals.
- 3 workshop training sessions were held which covered Code of Ethics and Good Practice training for athletes (May), Mentor Training (May) and Cookery Workshop with a Health Promotion theme (October).
- The 3rd Annual ALPs Conference took place in November.

- ALPs Awards were presented on Wednesday 27th October at a special function in the McWilliam Park Hotel. All ALPs athletes were invited to the evening. For the first time in the region, 3 athletes received their Gold Awards, 2 athletes got Silver Awards.

Leinster

- 3 Regional ALPS workshops held throughout the year.
- 33% growth in number of athletes in the programme in 2010
- ALPS Awards Presentation evening held in September, where 5 athletes successfully attained Silver Award and 6 athletes received their Bronze Awards.

- A special mention must go to Emily Hurley, from the North Cork ALPs group, for the fantastic job she did as the Athlete Face of the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games.
- ALPs athletes also participated in the launch of the Johnson & Johnson Association and other events associated with the 2010 Games Legacy Plan.

Ulster

- 91 registered ALPs athletes in the Region.
- ALPs Awards workshop held in Cookstown.

Family Programme

Robbie McNamara, from Ennis, Co. Clare, is welcomed home from the 2010 Special Olympics European Games, held in Poland, by his mother Susan O'Grady.

The main focus of the Family Programme in 2010 was to ensure the successful provision of family services at the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games in Limerick. The Games witnessed the highest ever attendance at Games by family members in support of their athletes, with up to 9,000 family members attending.

The Families Programme Strategic Plan, which outlines the direction of the families programme, was reviewed and agreed in 2010. The key goals focus on increasing the number of registered family members, with the aim of enhancing and strengthening communication and sharing information. The plan also seeks to engage family members and provide opportunities for involvement in various areas within the programme.

Families Programme Highlights from around the Regions:

Eastern region

- Family Information evening held in February to share information on the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games, address queries and to distribute a Family Games pack.
- Family Hospitality Centres were organised at two regional events during 2010 - Football and Athletics.
- The 2nd Annual Family event was held in Simmonscourt, RDS, Ballsbridge in October. The theme was 'Family Halloween Fun Day' and 400 registered family members attended the event.

Connaught

- 3 Family Information events, specifically dedicated to providing information on the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games, were organised, one in Loughrea and two sessions in Claremorris.
- 800 family members from Connaught attended the Games, 700 of whom attended the Opening Ceremony in Thomond Park. The participation of this number of family members was a significant increase on attendance levels at previous Games and reflects how the programme has developed over the past number of years.
- The 3rd Families Halloween Party took place on Sunday 31st October at the McWilliam Park Hotel, Claremorris. Over 200 athletes and family members attended. Music, refreshments, raffle and a costume parade were a few of the highlights from the day.

Munster

- The Regional Families Committee continued to play a key role in the ongoing development of the programme in 2010, with the main focus on providing support to the Team Munster Families Coordinator and family members attending the 2010 Games.
- Families' Information sessions were organised, updating families, facilitating the distribution of tickets and giving general support for family members.
- Families provided assistance with the gear-sizing sessions for the Munster team and had a presence at a number of regional events.

Ulster

- Registered family members increased to 1,116 in 2010.
- 801 family members travelled to the 2010 Games in Limerick with 570 attending the Opening Ceremony.
- A Family Hospitality Centre was set up at the Regional Aquatics event.

Leinster

- 1,000 family members from Leinster attended the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games.
- Family Hospitality Areas were set up at two multi-sport venues hosting the Special Olympics Ireland Games training sessions in Kilkenny in February and May and also at the Aquatics Event in November.
- A very successful Regional Families Day was held in Lullymore Heritage Park in September, at which there was an attendance of 140 family members.

Volunteer Services

The highlight for the year was the successful recruitment, screening and training of over 2,500 volunteers for the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games. Of the new volunteers recruited for the event, over 12% are now actively engaged in the Munster Region and over 95% expressed their interest in remaining involved in a support capacity.

The number of volunteers receiving CONNECT electronically rose from 6,000 to over 10,000, meaning that 69% of volunteers now receive it by email. This change from postal to electronic, combined with a change of suppliers, resulted in a 60% cost saving for the organisation. A move from using Microsoft Publisher to Adobe InDesign, has facilitated a more professional look and feel to the newsletter and also delivered a quicker turnaround time from print to delivery to the volunteers. Our new print partner has agreed to produce the hardcopy version in colour, at no extra cost to the organisation.

The Volunteer Opportunities Flyer was also redesigned to make it easier for volunteers to choose their role within Special Olympics Ireland.

All active volunteers who provided us with a photograph and whose role assignments were registered on our database were issued a new photographic membership card. Over 6,500 cards were issued in 2010.

The Annual Volunteer Forum was held in eircom Headquarters in September and there was a great representation of volunteers from across all regions. The forum provided excellent suggestions and feedback and was a terrific opportunity for volunteers to interact and share experiences. The date of the Volunteer Forum was chosen to coincide with inaugural Eunice Kennedy Shriver (EKS) Day and Mark Kennedy Shriver attended to celebrate the occasion with Special Olympics in Ireland and addressed the volunteers.

All registered volunteers were given the opportunity to apply to become part of the 200-strong team of volunteers that will travel to the 2011 Special Olympics World Summer Games in Athens. The 200 volunteers selected began training in October as fundraising initiatives got underway too. The 200 Irish volunteers will work for 10 days of the Games, alongside locally-recruited Games volunteers.

The Volunteer Programme faced new challenges over the past year as the length of time needed to vet volunteers increased to between 12 and 16 weeks. This increase in time reflected the additional organisations seeking vetting clearance and the challenge in the Central Vetting Unit to manage workload with their allocated level of resources. Changes were made to the Access NI application process, making it easier, more efficient and faster for Northern Irish residents to apply for clearance in order to volunteer with Special Olympics Ireland.

At local level, our coaches, volunteers and club management teams continued to play such a vital role in the delivery of the programme. At regional level, the programme was supported by dedicated volunteers on Regional Committees, Regional Support Teams and on other teams like Event Management Teams.

In each region, the Volunteer Support Centres continue to expand and develop, supporting the administration of the volunteer programme and the ongoing recruitment and assignment of volunteers to support the delivery of competition events and Development Days.

In 2010, significant dedication and commitment was shown by volunteers on Regional Management Teams. These teams helped prepare athletes and their families for the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games in Limerick, from organising squad training sessions and team uniforms to travel and accommodation.

Training

A priority for the year was the development and rollout of training for over 2,500 volunteers taking part in the Games in Limerick, including an online Games-specific module completed by over 1,400 people.

As well as the Games online training module, Induction Training for newly registered volunteers was also made available online and completed by almost 900 new recruits to the programme.

Health Services

The Health Promotion Pilot Project reached an exciting phase in 2010 where each participating club had the opportunity to take part in two modules from the Health Promotion Toolkit and Athlete Pack, with ongoing feedback on the content captured. Baseline health assessments were completed. In addition to the pilot project, numerous Health Promotion workshops were run at various events in different regions.

The Health Promotion Project Officer received training in the role of a Clinical Director, in the discipline of Health Promotion, at the 2010 European Games Healthy Athlete Programme, thus ensuring the capability to provide Health Promotion screenings with the Special Olympics Ireland programme from 2010. This is an extremely positive development for the programme.

Marketing, Communications and Fundraising

The 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games were a huge focus in terms of marketing, media and PR activity. A significant amount of support from the local business community in Limerick was secured which helped to offset the substantial cost of hosting such a major sporting event. Many new media links were established around the Games and a significant amount of support and interest from the media was generated. From the 2nd–9th June, the Flame of Hope was carried throughout the island by members of An Garda Síochána and the PSNI. The torch visited 57 different locations, including many primary schools, on its way to Thomond Park for the Opening Ceremony of the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games.

The first annual Eunice Kennedy Shriver Day (EKS Day) took place on Saturday 25th September 2010. This day was chosen to celebrate the life of Eunice Kennedy Shriver, founder of the Special Olympics movement. In Ireland, the occasion was marked by a reception hosted by An Taoiseach Brian Cowen in Farmleigh. The event was attended by Mark Kennedy Shriver as well as Special Olympics athletes and their families.

Our new fundraising strategy got underway in 2010 with the recruitment of 5 fundraising coordinators, one to work in each of our 5 regional offices. An online strategy was also developed to enable us to target new audiences and provide information on the overall movement. The new strategy focuses on strengthening our relationships with existing supporters and nurturing new donors and funding providers.

Academy Award winning songwriter Glen Hansard performing on Grafton Street during 2010 Special Olympics Collection Day.

Our All Ireland Collection Day took place on Friday, 23rd April. 2,500 volunteers took to the streets of Ireland to raise essential funding for us. In Dublin, the day started off with a coffee morning held in the offices of Today FM and Newstalk. This event was followed by street entertainment from 7am–7pm on Grafton and Henry Street, including a special performance by Glen Hansard. In Limerick, Des Cahill was MC at a coffee morning which was well-attended by our friends and supporters. In addition, several members of the Munster Rugby team came out to collect for us. In Belfast, Lord Mayor Naomi Long held a Coffee Morning to celebrate the day. The support and goodwill we received from our sponsors, corporate partners, supporters and members of the public was absolutely fantastic and resulted in €600,134 being raised for Special Olympics that day.

Last year also marked 25 years of our partnership with eircom. This is a milestone that both organisations are extremely proud of. To celebrate, a week-long programme of activities was organised in eircom's Head Office. The activities included volunteer recruitment and information sessions, athlete visits, a photographic exhibition and a visit of the Law Enforcement Torch Run to the building.

The impact of Kia Ireland's vehicle sponsorship was once again evident with the five 7-seater vehicles constantly on the road, particularly around our collection day and the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games.

Accenture continued their sponsorship of the ALPs programme. This provided us with excellent facilities, volunteers and much needed funding for the programme.

The new Special Olympics website, powered by eircom broadband, was officially launched boasting many new features such as athlete blogs, picture galleries and interactive facilities including online registration and volunteer training programmes. We also developed and grew our online presence through Facebook and Twitter.

Support Functions

Administration

After a review on the suitability of the Regional Offices it was recommended that some offices needed to secure larger office space on the basis of health and safety regulations. The Connaught Office relocated to their new premises just outside Sligo town in March 2010. The search for suitable Eastern Regional office space began early 2010 and the relocation is expected to take place in June 2011.

An annual review of the Special Olympics Health & Safety Statement took place in July 2010 and an update was issued to all the Regional Offices.

An internal annual review of insurance cover took place over the period July and August 2010. The review confirmed that all necessary cover was in place for the coming 12 months. Four insurance providers tendered for the renewal and our current insurers Allianz secured the business.

Special Olympics Ireland provides both a defined contribution scheme and a PRSA scheme to its staff. The current schemes are with Zurich and administered directly by them. Trustees reviewed the pension scheme in 2007 and transferred over to the current provider in 2008, where performance indicators would provide improved returns and administration costs were negotiated at a better rate.

Logistics

2010 was a busy year in terms of the logistical support required for both the Collection Day and the 2010 Games in Limerick, which also incorporated the Law Enforcement Torch Run. Collection Day preparation involved distribution of 2,500 buckets, 2,500 signs and 2,500 t-shirts and high-visibility vests right around the island in a coordinated and timely manner, followed by the return of same after the event.

Equipment, banners and signage was transferred in May from our central warehouse to the Games warehouse, to be redistributed to Games venues. A major reorganisation and return of stock took place in Limerick immediately after the Games, followed by a return to Dublin. A complete tidy-up and inventory of all stock-on-hand in the warehouse was completed over a two-day period in October. A new stock inventory system is in place to capture list of stock items and further development underway to track movement of stock in and out of warehouse.

Human Resources

In order to support the existing employees working on the plans and preparations involved in staging the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games in Limerick, a small number of additional employees were recruited for the six months leading up to the Games in June.

With the launch of the new fundraising strategy at the start of the year, a Fundraising Co-ordinator was appointed in each region to plan and manage the fundraising and income-generating initiatives for the region.

As part of the organisation's continuing efforts to enhance communication to and from employees, 'The Link', which is the annual staff day, took place in November. It is a valuable opportunity for all employees to get together in one location once a year, to reflect on achievements throughout the year and to focus on the organisation's priorities for the year ahead.

Information Technology

Information Technology investment and support remained a high priority for the organisation in the drive to improve efficiencies and communication. A new Internet Filtering Software system was implemented to help secure the organisation's network from internet-based threats. The system ensures Web 2.0 tools (Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, etc.) may be safely utilised by designated staff.

Three of the organisation's stand-alone servers (Moodle, Sharepoint and Registration servers) have been virtualised and moved onto new hardware. This process considerably reduced the organisation's risk of downtime for these services, as well as providing cost savings with regards to hardware installation and running costs. In December, after much consideration and after following a detailed tendering process, it was decided to award our Customer Relationship Management (CRM) contract to Blackbaud Technologies. Implementation will be phased-in during 2011. Significant support for this strategically important project is provided through EU funding which was secured by Special Olympics Europe Eurasia.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Year Ended 31st December 2010

The directors present their Annual Report together with the Audited Financial Statements for the year ended 31st December 2010.

Principal Activity

The company was incorporated on the 4th July 1978 and its principal activity is the development and promotion of the Special Olympics movement in Ireland.

Current Business and Future Developments

Special Olympics Ireland (SOI) continued to provide a year-round sports training and competition programme, for athletes with an intellectual disability, in Special Olympics clubs around the island. The Special Olympics Programme offers 13 Summer Sports, one Winter Sport, and a comprehensive Motor Activities Programme for those not yet ready for competition. The programme includes a range of sporting, social and community-based activities which generate enormous health, educational and social inclusion benefits for people with intellectual disabilities. We are now one of Ireland's largest sporting and voluntary organisations, with 409 registered clubs across the island at the end of December 2010.

A key aspect of the work of the organisation is the support and development of clubs involved in the year-round sports programme. 2010 was also an extremely busy year on the competition front with some of the major highlights including:

- The men's and women's National Football Cup and Plate competitions in May 2010
- The 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games were held in Limerick in June. 1,825 athletes from throughout the island of Ireland competed in 13 sports and a comprehensive Motor Activities Programme, supported by 650 coaches and official delegates and 2,500 volunteers. Over 9,000 family members and supporters came out to support the athletes over 4 days of high-quality competitive events.
- Special Olympics Ireland was represented, by a team of 35 athletes in 5 sports, at the 2010 European Games in Warsaw, Poland in September. On their return, the team, along with family members of the athletes, received recognition at a reception in Áras an Uachtaráin, hosted by President Mary McAleese.
- The selection of the team to represent Special Olympics Ireland at the 2011 World Summer Games took place in September 2010, with the squad training sessions getting underway in December. The Games will take place in Athens, Greece from the 25th June to 4th July 2011.
- 10 athletes were presented with their FAI International Caps by Packie Bonner and Ray Houghton in December.

Over the course of 2010, 18 new Special Olympics clubs were established with recruitment of 834 new athletes into the programme.

The economic value of the All Ireland Games has been estimated to be in the region of €10m and is detailed in a report, commissioned by Shannon Development in conjunction with Special Olympics Ireland, titled "2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games – Limerick, Economic and Event Impact Assessment". A key focus for the organisation in the planning of the Games, and in the post-event follow up, was to ensure maximum benefit was gained from legacy opportunities presented by the hosting of the Games in Limerick.

In that regard, Special Olympics Munster has been most successful in engaging with volunteers, companies and organisations associated with the Games to the betterment of the regional programme.

The following new initiatives also got under way in 2010:

- The Inter-Club Guide was issued in February to promote sports activities between local clubs and to provide additional training and competition opportunities to athletes.
- A root and branch review of the Eastern region programme was undertaken due to its rapid expansion. The Eastern region is the newest region and has been established for five years.
- Photographic membership cards were introduced for volunteers and the first phase rolled out in time for the Ireland Games in Limerick
- A Health Promotion programme resource pack was developed and produced during 2010 and elements of it were made available to athletes who attended the Healthy Athlete programme during the 2010 Special Olympics Ireland Games. The project is co-funded by the Health Service Executive (HSE) and the Daughters of Charity.
- An online Volunteer Induction Training Module was developed and went live for the first time in February, targeted at potential 2010 Games volunteers.
- Modules in Intellectual Disability, developed in conjunction with Trinity College, and a Code of Ethics Module for Athletes were added to the range of training modules available within the programme.

2010 was a hugely significant year for fundraising. A new fundraising strategy was implemented in January to assist with ensuring the long-term financial sustainability of Special Olympics Ireland, which is a key strategic aim in the organisation's current strategy. Our All Ireland Collection Day took place on Friday 23rd April and incredible support was received on the day. Over 2,500 volunteers came out to help fundraise for Special Olympics Ireland and raised €600,134.

This year also saw us celebrate 25 years of partnership with our premier sponsor, eircom. This is a cause of tremendous pride on the part of both organisations. Special Olympics Ireland also launched its new website and other social media technologies in March. In the current economic circumstances, maintaining current levels of funding is critical for the organisation.

We continue to work with both the Irish and Northern Ireland governments in relation to securing and maintaining core grant funding towards sustaining the All Ireland programme across the 32 counties. The Irish Sports Council continued to be our main core grant funder. The 2010 grant was cut by 10% compared to that received in 2009. We are continuing to make positive strides, to secure core funding, with the Northern Ireland government.

Special Olympics Ireland also continued to build relationships with our corporate sponsors, eircom, (Premier Sponsors), Ulster Bank (Families Programme Sponsor) and Kia Ireland (Vehicle Sponsor). These relationships are highly valued and continue to be strategically important.

Fundraising activities with the general public remain a key factor in both generating required funds and maintaining a high awareness profile.

Demand for new clubs and new sports activities remain buoyant and the organisation continues to be supported by the dedication of thousands of volunteers, which will be a focus for us in 2011, the European Year of the Volunteer.
